

TIRED OF TRYING TO PULL FIRST CLASS SERVICE OUT OF YOUR ALLIED EQUIPMENT VENDORS?

Don't have a calf trying to get allied equipment suppliers to support your sales effort. Here are three good reasons why Rockland should always be your first choice:

Cooperative and Knowledgeable Sales Staff

At Rockland, it all starts the minute you call. We will never have a computer involved in our phone system, and we will never add insult to injury by putting you on hold and then forcing you to listen to a commercial about us! We aim to please, and we aim to please everyone that cares enough to call us!

Prompt Technical Support

Our engineering and sales staff is always ready to quickly assist. Special products and performance info is a specialty, and we provide written confirmation so there is never any doubt as to who said what.

Prompt Quotations

Time is important. The sooner you sell, the more you can sell. We do it your way—e-mail, fax, overnight, whatever you need. And we honor all quotes.

Successful Dealers survive by selling quality products and delivering top-notch customer service. When you put Rockland equipment in the hands of your customers, the relationship is enhanced, not put at risk.
